FOREWARD

During the past school year, we, the students of Southern High School, have been in contact with a new and progressive environment. Witnessing the growth of the school in size and efficiency has been a stimulating experience. When completed, the students and citizens of Southern can say with excusable pride, "We are the Southern Highlanders." We, the members of the 1966 Highlander Staff, have decided to employ as our theme "The Builders."

Perhaps "The Builders" by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow best expresses our feelings and reactions toward this outstanding project. We selected this poem because it denotes an indirect viewpoint of how the construction of the new additions to Southern will influence the forming and strengthening of the scholar's mind and body. The newly erected classrooms will do much to provide a firm foundation of knowledge and understanding.

THE BUILDERS

All are architects of Fate,
Working in these walls of Time;
Some with massive deeds and great,
Some with ornaments of rhyme.

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle show
Strengthens and supports the rest.

For the structure that we raise,
Time is with materials filled;
Our to-days and yesterdays
Are the blocks with which we build.

Truly shape and fashion these;
Leave no yawning gaps between;
Think not, because no man sees,
Such things will remain unseen.

In the elder days of Art,
Builders wrought with greatest care
Each minute and unseen part;
For the Gods see everywhere.

Let us do our work as well,
Both the unseen and the seen;
Make the house where God may dwell,
Beautiful, entire, and clean.

Else our lives are incomplete,
Standing in these walls of Time,
Broken stairways, where the feet
Stumble as they seek to climb.

Build to-day, then, strong and sure,
With a firm and ample base;
And ascending and secure
Shall to-morrow find its place.

Thus alone can we attain
To those turrets, where the eye
Sees the world as one vast plain,
And one boundless reach of sky.

Henry Wadsworth Longfellow

ADMINISTRATION

Nothing useless is, or low;
Each thing in its place is best;
And what seems but idle, now
Strengthens and supports the rest.

Mr. Clinton W. Englander, Associate Member; Mrs. Elsie Brady, Vice-President; Mr. George D. Edwards, President, and Mr. Willard L. Hawkins, Superintendent of Schools.

Board Of Education

The Board of Education is the ruling body of the county school system. It also could be referred to as the policy making board, as it sets the policies for the county schools and approves the plans of the Superintendent of Schools for the general educational set up of the county. The Board meetings are scheduled for the second Tuesday of each month.

The members of the Board of Education consist of Mr. George Edwards, president; Mrs. George Brady, vice-president; Mr. Clinton W. Englander, associate member; and the Superintendent of Schools, Mr. Willard Hawkins, secretary.

Serving as supervisory personnel are Mr. Albert Ringer, supervisor of junior-senior high schools; Mr. Edwin W. Elias, supervisor of elementary schools; Mr. A. B. Dean, supervisor of pupil personnel, Mr. Robert Martin, supervisor of transportation; Mr. James Trickett, administrative assistant; and Mr. George Brady, administrative assistant.

The secretarial positions are held by Mrs. Mary Grace Umstot, financial secretary; Mrs. Lela Paugh, assistant-financial secretary; and Mrs. Lucille Ludvigsen, clerk.

The position of Supervisor of Instruction requires the able leadership of Mr. Albert

Ringer. He is responsible for the overall curriculum of grades one through twelve, evaluation of classroom teaching, and submitting recommendations for curriculum improvement. Mr. Ringer also assists in the employment of teachers and reviewing certification requirements of teachers.

Before attaining the position of Supervisor of Instruction, Mr. Ringer served as a translator and interpreter of Russian for two years in the United States Army, taught seventh grade for two years at Oakland Elementary School, math and "core" for one-half of a year at Northern High School, and then came to Southern where he taught "core", math, and academic mathematics.

Mr. Ringer holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Fairmont State College and a Master of Arts from West Virginia University.

Mr. Albert R. Ringer.

Mr. W. Kenneth Johns, Principal

Mr. Carl Everly, Vice-Principal

Principal And Vice-Principal

The responsible position of principal of Southern High School is held by W. Kenneth Johns who has served in this capacity for the past ten years. Previous to his appointment at Southern he was employed for five years as a teacher in Bel Air, Maryland. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree at Columbia University. Mr. Johns completed graduate work at the Universities of Maryland, West Virginia, Wisconsin, and Colorado.

Since the position of the principal entails so many duties, it is almost impossible to list everyone of them. Thus, that which follows is a resume presenting several of the outstanding duties performed by Mr. Johns. The principal must enforce the policies of the central office and recommend policies to the Superintendent of Schools for improvement of curriculum and supervision of instruction. Aside from this, he directs the public relations of the school, as well as reviewing disciplinary matters referred to him by the vice-principal. His role in hiring personnel is the participation in screening, interviewing, and nominating prospective persons. Another of the principal's duties is the purchase of all instructional material and equipment; he also supervises all school functions. All school purchases from individual accounts must be approved through Mr. Johns. The development of a sound program of co-curricular activities is developed by the principal. Mr. Johns interprets all bulletins and all administrative directives to the staff.

Vice-principal Carl Everly has many important duties and functions to perform during a routine day at Southern. Mr. Everly must clear all announcements which are read over the public address system. He takes care of all funds, insurance and disciplinary matters, as well as approving the use of the school by outside organizations. Included under attendance matters are the approving of out of school passes, tardiness to class and school, and the monthly and annual attendance reports. Mr. Everly supervises the ordering of class rings and caps and gowns for graduation. He acts as coordinator for the approving of out of school passes, tardiness to class and school, and the monthly and annual attendance reports. Mr. Everly supervises the ordering of class rings and caps and gowns for graduation. He acts as coordinator for the graduation exercises each year. The vice-principal also makes arrangements for all field trips and county events which occur. Aside from these functions Mr. Everly serves as principal in the absence of Mr. Johns. It is an obvious conclusion that each day at Southern is an arduous one for Mr. Everly.

Mr. Everly formerly taught at Oakland High School, where he was employed for eighteen years. During this time he taught chemistry, physics, and driver's education. He served as vice-principal for two years at Oakland High School; upon coming to Southern in 1952, he retained that position.

Mr. Kenneth Ward, the administrative assistant, is responsible for the Student Council, National Youth Corps, cafeteria supervision, and discipline. He oversees the dismissing of the students, seating in the cafetorium and gymnasium for all school events, and athletic contests. The assigning of teachers' duties falls under the jurisdiction of Mr. Ward. These assignments include hall and cafeteria duty, showcase displays and athletic contest responsibilities. Bus evacuation and fire drills are administered by the assistant to the administration. In cooperation with Mr. Domenick, Mr. Ward organizes the magazine campaign. He assists in the preparation of the master schedule and makes necessary arrangements for medical attention when necessary. The office of the administrative assistant is kept busy by many other necessary and important functions.

Prior to his coming to Southern, Mr. Ward taught in West Virginia for three years. He is presently teaching eighth and ninth grade science. His Bachelor of Arts degree was received at West Virginia University, where he completed the training necessary for his important duties at Southern.

The educational and vocational futures of senior high school students are the responsibility of our senior high guidance counselor Mr. Ernest Spoerlein.

A synopsis of the tasks entailed by Mr. Spoerlein is as follows. He presents information to the students about various colleges and universities. Mr. Spoerlein administers tests such as the California Achievement Tests, the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Tests, and the General Aptitude Tests Battery. Checking the number of points that each senior has earned and organizing the records of new students are some other tasks which Mr. Spoerlein performs.

Our guidance counselor attended Bridgewater College and obtained the Bachelor of Arts degree from that institution.

Mr. Lewis Domenick serves as junior high guidance counselor at Southern. He helps to build good character among the younger high school students, as well as search for their capabilities. Methods used by Mr. Domenick to find these abilities are the Primary Mental Ability Test, the Iowa Basic Skills Test, the California Achievement Test and other special examinations. The responsibility of scheduling grades seven, eight, and nine is in the hands of the junior high guidance counselor.

Mr. Domenick formerly held the position of president of the Garrett County Teachers Association and is presently the vice-president of that organization. He was principal of the summer school program this past summer.

Teaching seventh grade English and social studies is assigned to Mr. Domenick. Earning his Bachelor of Arts degree at Shepherd College and receiving his Master of Arts degree from West Virginia University are essential achievements in his educational history.

Beverly Trenum, Nancy Rowan, and Becky Michael use the facilities of the library to broaden their scale of interests and studies.

The duties of the members of the English department are numerous. These teachers try to convey the importance of reading the most beneficial and interesting works of various authors. Learning to write and speak correct English is another important phase of student education. The instructors also attempt to find and to bring out creative qualities that their students may possess and the resulting self-satisfaction which accompanies these discoveries. Thus, the future of all the students at Southern lies in the efficiency of the English teachers.

FRENCH

MRS. JANICE HUTCHINSON

MRS. JEANNE WHITEHAIR
Hood College, A. B. French, French
Club advisor.

Sharon Riley, Ken Cummings, Richard Friend, Randy Maphis, and Polly Kittle learn the geography of France which makes them more appreciative of its language.

Southern High School is fortunate this year to have a modern audio-lingual laboratory for the French classes. This is an electronic facility which is advantageous in that by the use of microphones and earphones it enables the students to hear clearly the French transmitted to them.

The question is often asked, "Why bother to learn a foreign language?" We, in America, now more than ever need to meet the world on a people to people basis. Our efforts for world peace and security will be easier as we gain an understanding of neighbors near and far. Understanding is enriched by communication; and communication depends ultimately on some form of language. The study of any foreign language helps us to understand the people whose language is being learned.

The new French laboratory presents a modern technique to these students learning this language.

LIBRARY

Correct book shelving, which is essential to the efficient functioning of the library, is carried out by assistant librarians, Elma Martin and Carol Unger.

MRS. GOLDIE BITTLE
Hood College, A. B. Librarian

The library is one of the most important rooms in Southern High School. It is the source of countless novels, biographies, and non-fiction books. Reference books, magazines, and other periodicals may also be found on the shelves of the library. These give the student an opportunity to widen his frontiers in reading and enables him to read more beneficially. A student who reads wisely and selectively becomes, not only a more interesting person, but also one who is constantly increasing his comprehension of the ideas of others, in his judging of the quality of the books he reads, and in his appreciation of the rewarding experiences he obtains from the world of literature.

Judy Wilson catalogues new periodicals as Linda Humberson and Rita Hardesty reinforce them, and Barbara Ashby and Ruth Rawlings observe their procedure.

SOCIAL STUDIES

The objectives of the social studies department provide the opportunities for the individual to understand himself, his interrelationships with others, and the effects of the physical environment on himself and on his society. The social studies program is particularly involved with people; where they are, what they are doing, where they came from, and what they have done. This is important because social studies is associated with developing competencies in group living.

Chemistry makes it possible for Janet DelSignore, Tom Ryan, and Bob Crone to witness changes in our environment and the components taking part in these reactions.

Science is, perhaps, a personal thing. Man's progress can be measured in terms of scientific achievement and progress might be defined as the advance of man's physical and mental well being.

In its turn, scientific achievement depends on the comprehension of basic physical concepts. These concepts can only be learned by a continuing program of science and mathematics on all educational levels.

MATHEMATICS

Danny Otto, Linda Cosner, Charlotte Elliott, and Eugene Pysell study the essential fundamentals of practical math applications.

The mathematics department of Southern has three "tracks" and seven teachers. Track one is for general students and its purpose is to develop a knowledge of the four fundamentals so that students may meet the demands of financial responsibilities in the future.

Track two is purely traditional, designed merely to meet college requirements for high school graduates who will not major in any mathematically related subject or mathematics itself. Students who would normally be enrolled in this track are those who may still have some difficulties with mathematical concepts but are interested in broadening their understanding.

The purpose of track three is that of developing skills, vocabulary and concepts that will serve as a background or foundation for further study in science, mathematics, or any other related subject. The trend toward modern math is explored here to the fullest degree and those with extra abilities are encouraged to develop them.

Saint Joseph College, B.S. Typing I,
Business Training, Parent-Teacher
Association Membership Chairman

The introductory courses in business are for all students and are intended to improve business and economic understanding and knowledge of business organization and management. The general business curriculum is designed for those who desire to secure initial employment through typing, bookkeeping, business machines, selling (distributive occupations), or clerical positions, other than those requiring a knowledge of stenography. The objective of the stenographic curriculum is to train pupils for secretarial or stenographic positions.

MRS. CORILE WILHELM

Business Law and Salesmanship

One of the most important parts of business education is acquiring the ability to type, as strived for by this class.

Mr. Dean oversees this office practice session which assists these students in gaining the necessary abilities used in business careers.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Volleyball is a game of competition and fun as found by these boys in physical education class.

Physical education at Southern is designed to develop the student physically and to further his desire to enjoy wholesome physical recreation after he leaves school.

Through the awareness of body discipline in physical exercise, proper rest, and good eating habits, we hope to help each student realize his responsibilities for keeping himself physically fit throughout his life.

Eddie O'Brien quizzes Brenda Severe, Helen Sanders and Phil Barton on the basic rules needed to make them responsible members of the growing ranks of teenage drivers.

The greatest hope for the prevention of traffic chaos is driver or safety education. High schools have an extremely important role in solving the problems which face us today. One of these problems is the present traffic situation. Safety education promotes the safe, effective, and rewarding use of the automobile. It fosters a strong sense of responsibility for traffic conditions and possible improvements, encourages working together for the public good, and forms pride in high standards of performance and behavior.

Why the sober look, Mr. Flinn, the worst they can do is demolish the car . . . and you!

A HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1966

When we first came to Southern we were all eyes. We saw huge corridors, numerous rooms, and hundreds of people who seemed to have their eyes fixed on a distant goal. We were lost, scared, so very alone, and no one seemed to notice us. But day after day we realized that these assumptions were false. The hallways and classrooms made up an intricate colony to which we proudly belonged. The hundreds of people were our new friends who did care about us and helped us in every way they could. Thus our life at Southern began, and we settled contently into a pattern of life we would know for six years.

It was not as cut and dry as all this. Each year was a new adventure. We found new friends in both our classmates and our teachers. Our studies were as varied as our extracurricular activities and just as much fun! (Well, almost.)

We became acquainted with Southern in the seventh grade and learned to love it in the eighth grade. By the ninth grade we became freshmen. Oh! That title made us feel good. During our next year we acquired the "eyes fixed on a distant goal" that we had noticed in many people on our first day at Southern. The future began to trouble us.

We received our class rings, attended our first prom, and moved closer to adulthood in our junior year. Our eyes were still fixed on our goal and grim determination had taken the place of our fear of the future.

This particular brand of determination greeted us on our first day as seniors. It has diminished somewhat. The constant encouragement and reassurance our teachers had given us through the years had finally worn through. Graduation has found us prepared to meet our goals. For this preparation, the class of 1966, wishes to thank each and every teacher at Southern. You have been our friends, our confidants, our inspiration; the molders of our minds . . . our parents away from home. We will never forget your encouragement and understanding.

STUDENT LIFE

The life structure that we raise
Time in with materials filled
Our to-day's and yesterday's
Are the blocks with which we build

THE STUDENT COUNCIL

Mr. Kenneth Ward, advisor; Fannie Hinebaugh, assistant treasurer; Sheila Travis, treasurer; Anne Gibson, president; Mary Cosby, vice-president; Jane Garrett, secretary; Bradley Stewart, parliamentarian.

Southern's Student Council, advised by Mr. Kenneth Ward, functions to promote good citizenship, school spirit, and a better student-faculty relationship. Listed projects, both planned and proposed, include the Student Council-Faculty football, basketball, and baseball games, the organizing of the Homecoming Parade, the Pencil Drive, the Heart Fund Campaign, a dance following the Student Council-Faculty Basketball Contest, the Student Handbook, and the Alma Mater contest.

The Student Council at Southern is affiliated with a state and national organization, the Maryland Association of Student Councils and the National Association of Student Councils.

Shown below is Mr. Kuhn pumping in another faculty basket during the student council-faculty basketball game.

PROMOTES SCHOOL SPIRIT

Alma Mater

In the Garrett County highlands,
'Neath the sky so low
Stands the home of Southern High School,
Finest place we know.

To thee, Alma Mater, our voices now we raise.

In loyal devotion, we sing this hymn of praise.

Thy name so glorious,

Over all victorious,

Will always be our guide.

Thy sons and daughters strive

To keep thy spirit live.

To thee, our Alma Mater, as we go on Life's trail.

Southern High School, hail.

Hail, Southern, Hail.

Words by: Roger Keefe

THE NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY STRIVES JOURNALISTIC TALENT IS

The creation of a permanent enthusiasm for scholarship is among the aims of the Foster Bittle Chapter of the National Honor Society. Another purpose of the organization is to stimulate a desire to render service and to promote worthy leadership. The development of good character in the students of Garrett County is encouraged by this assembly of young scholars who are advised by Mr. Boal.

Membership in this chapter is based upon scholarship, service, leadership and character. A select group of teachers appointed by the principal and the principal himself elect the new members in January.

The Foster Bittle Chapter is a branch of the National Honor Society of Secondary Schools.

Nancy Callis pins the National Honor Society emblem on Roger Keefe and Sandra Dawson while Kay Riley, Helen Repetsky and Ruth Knotts recite the society's pledge.

Lynn Wiles, Bradley Stewart, Fannie Hinebaugh, Carla Savage and Sharon Moreland make plans for the annual Quill and Scroll banquet.

Southern's Quill and Scroll is associated with the International Honor Society for High School Journalists. It was established to develop and encourage creativity and originality among its members.

In April the Quill and Scroll Banquet is held and new members are initiated. Membership cost is $3.00 for which a membership pin and a year's subscription to QUILL AND SCROLL MAGAZINE are received.

To become a member of Quill and Scroll a student must be in the upper third of his class. He must be a junior or senior who has worked on the ACORN or HIGHLANDER for at least one year, and must have done outstanding work in the journalism field.

The 1966 Highlander Staff

Co-operation is the key note required to produce a successful yearbook as shown here by members of the HIGHLANDER staff.

The sole aim of the HIGHLANDER staff is to condense into volume form the events, functions, participants, and sponsors of the entire year which relate to school life, keeping in mind that the yearbook must have meaning to its purchaser in the present, the future, and to his posterity. With this in mind the HIGHLANDER staff diligently strives to complete an accurate and informative yearbook. These students put forth many tedious hours working to perfect the annual to the best of their abilities.

Like the ACORN staff, this group of young journalists chooses delegates to send to the Southern Interscholastic Press Association Convention. Worthy members are eligible for membership in Quill & Scroll.

RESPONSIBILITY, AND INGENUITY

The ACORN staff strives to keep students, faculty and the community informed of the activities of Southern High School. During the school year they put six newspapers and a senior edition to press. They try to combine the best techniques of high school journalism with a good "nose for news".

The staff gains valuable experience in the journalism field which may open the way to a career or a job opportunity. Students working on the ACORN are eligible to join the Quill and Scroll. Representatives are chosen to attend the Southern Interscholastic Press Association Convention.

The Acorn Staff

THIRD ROW- Mrs. Hutchinson, advisor; Becky Sherwood; Linda Jackson; Bill

Emery; Kay Martin; Patty Yanzetich; Stephen Perrine; Dorothy Glaze; Mrs. Whitehair, advisor. FOURTH ROW- Polly Kittle; Chris Reckart; Blucher Allison; Sharon Teagarden; Dave Houk; Kathy Swiger; Karen Schaible. FIFTH ROW- Rita McCaw; Marilyn Englander; Townie Grant; Bowie Grant; Chilton Grose; John Kerins; Linda Sukow; Kathy Myers.

The French Club is a novice this year at Southern High. The organization was formed with one main objective directed towards those students studying the language: to promote interest in language through enjoyable activities of an extra-curricular nature.

Some of the activities which were on the French Club's agenda this year were various speakers, movies, dances, special parties and the French Night program in the spring which climaxed the activities of the Club. Thus, it is hoped that through these recreations each individual student will come to appreciate the French language to a fuller degree.

Mrs. Jeanne Whitehair and Mrs. Janice Hutchinson advise the Club.

Phil Barton, Karen Sydenstricker, Dennis Friend, and Mrs. Jeanne Whitehair demonstrate their version of the famous French "can-can" at Southern's first Mardi Gras.

CHARACTER DEVELOPMENT AND HIGH PERFORMANCE ARE SPEECH CLUB AIMS

Mike Hoye, president of the S.S.A., conducts one of the many meetings assembled by fellow members.

Southern High School is very fortunate this year to add to its roster of activities the Southern Speech Association (S.S.A.), which is advised by Mr. Posey. This organization sets as its major goal the promotion of better habits of character and speech.

The S.S.A. hopes to assemble debates and present a play to the whole student body in the near future, which will be very beneficial in achieving their ambition. Several members attended a Speech Clinic at Johns Hopkins University, the Clinic at Maryland University, and the State Drama Festival. The activities of this group are directed toward character development first and performance second.

The S.S.A. is affiliated with the Maryland Speech and Drama Association.

TOMORROW'S TEACHERS ARE INSPIRED

FIRST ROW- Miss DeBerry, advisor; Ruth Sweitzer; Leslie Hinebaugh, recording secretary; Cathy Yanzetich, corresponding secretary; Sharon DeWitt; Carol Roberts; Carol

The Future Teachers Club of Southern High hopes to acquaint and inform students of the advantages of the teaching profession. The relationship of free education and our democratic way of life is presented and explained by guest speakers. Other prominent events are the Spring and Fall Conventions which enable members to elect state officers and provide a workshop. Reports from the conventions always prove interesting and informative.

This chapter of the F.T.A. is in connection with the Maryland Association of Future Teachers of America and the National Education Association.

In the absence of the French teacher, Phil Barton, a prominent member of the Future Teachers of America, instructs students of a French I class.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALES OF THE FUTURE

Initiation into the F.N.A. requires prospective members, Beverly Trenum, Linda Weimer, Sue Sharps, Susan Wolfe, and Judy Wolfe, to dress as nurses and to carry dolls.

The Future Nurses Club at Southern strives to familiarize its members with material useful in explaining the entire field of nursing in private homes, hospitals, communities, and the armed forces. The development of the ability to collect, analyze, and evaluate information available to them is included on their agenda of endeavors. Sources of these facts are state health departments, nurses' organizations over the country, and the division of health of the United Nations. One of the most effective ways to learn is through experience, or the next best manner would be to meet those who are directly involved in this challenging field. The latter is arranged as frequently as possible. Members also acquire elementary experience while working in the County Health Department.

Projects which the F.N.A. hopes to complete are the Mothers' Day Tea and Program, and the making of Christmas and Easter favors for nursing homes and Green Street School.

The state affiliation of this organization is the Future Nurses of Maryland.

Contributing to the festivities of the annual Homecoming Dance was the cutting of the Homecoming cake by coaches Bolding and Shumaker.

Homecoming 1965, was officially heralded in by that traditional adversary-precipitation. Due to the inauspicious atmospheric conditions, the annual Homecoming procession was reprogramed the subsequent week. The Homecoming football exhibition; however was held according to the time table. Undaunted by the falling water the Highlanders emerged with a 19-6 mastery over St. Francis of Morgantown.

The following evening the eighth annual Homecoming Dance was held in honor of our football team. Providing the music for the gala occasion were the "Stardusters." The coronation of the Homecoming king and queen, Bill Mattingly and Dianne Morrow, climaxed the evening's festivities. Individuals making up the queen's court were Joanne Powers and Anne Gibson with their escorts, Mike Friend and John Minnick. Following the coronation the Homecoming cake was cut by Coach Leroy Bolding and Assistant Coach Larry Shumaker. Each player and cheerleader was served a piece of this pastry.

Homecoming activities were brought to a climatic finish with the annual Homecoming parade featuring "The South Shall Rise Again." The 9-E French float captured first prize, the eighth grade social studies float grabbed second prize, and Senior Chorus took third.

G.A.A. Promotes Good Sportsmanship

Nancy Glotfelty, Kathy Ridder, Regina Sanders, Mary Cosby, Karen Adams, Connie Baker, Jenny Gosnell, and Sherry Frantz are shown here in their Paris originals after receiving news that they were chosen as the eight best dressed girls at Southern by members of the G.A.A. initiation committee.

The leading goals of the Girl's Athletic Association are to encourage and promote the development of desirable health practices, attitudes and ideals and to support all athletic activities.

The G.A.A. sponsors the annual Homecoming Dance and a spring picnic for club members and their guests.

Senior students receive letters each year if enough activity points are attained, and active junior members are awarded emblems by the advisors, Mrs. Kerins and Mrs. Frame.

Southern's G.A.A. is affiliated with the National Girls' Athletic Association.

VARSITY CLUB BUILDS ATHLETIC STATURE

ner, Bradley Uphole; Martin Sharpless; Tom Dettmer; Ray Burton, secretary; Tom Hoffman; Bill Martin, vice-president; and Rob Sharps, president.

"Okay, Bob, shell out some skins," demands Jason Stewart, chief peddler of the Varsity Club bumper sticker campaign.

The Southern High Varsity Club is maintained to increase interest in athletics and to heighten the stature of the school. Under the direction of Mr. Richard Travis, the club stages a play and a varsity versus faculty basketball game.

Eligibility for membership in their group requires that an athlete enter before he is a senior and he must have earned one varsity letter. Members may obtain a jacket displaying the school's colors and mascot, the Ram, by earning two letters in the sports field.

CHESS CLUB HAS FIRST SEASON

From Asia, the largest continent in the world, to Southern High School, the game of chess has progressed and finally is a favorite pastime of both students and teachers.

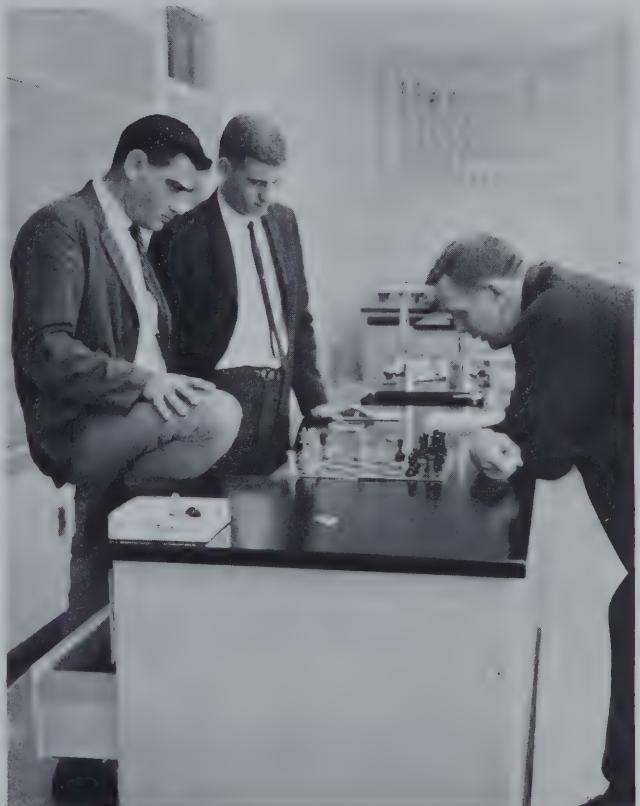

An assembly of pupils and instructors decided to create an organization whereby members could participate in tournaments of this popular game.

Several faculty members, who are associated with the club and know how to play the game, put their teaching talents to work in order to familiarize the members with the fundamentals and techniques required to make worthy chess players.

The game of chess develops two main assets. They are the power of concentration and the ability to foresee possible moves by the opponent.

The knowledge of playing chess has now reached the point where it is not only a leisurely attribute but also an educational one.

The newly formed chess club is significant from any other club for two reasons. Teachers as well as students are members and it is the first club of its kind at Southern.

Mr. Fugera ponders an important move during a chess match with Mr. Siertl while Mr. Zimmerman looks on.

AIDES LEARN LIBRARY SKILLS

Student library aides of Southern prove to be of great service to the school in the execution of their duties which include checking in, verifying, and shelving books. The preparation of magazines, newspapers, and pamphlets for use by teachers and students composes a portion of their work. Circulation data is recorded by these persons to insure the security of the material. The cataloging and classification of books are among other tasks which are performed in an ordinary day of a library aide.

OFFICE WORK GIVES BUSINESS STUDENTS VALUABLE EXPERIENCE

To help with office jobs and to learn to perform office tasks are the foremost purposes of the office aides. Eleven members obtain office experience by taking messages for faculty and students, mimeographing papers, and typing announcements, letters, and memos. The office aides are under the direction of Mr. Spoerlein.

Judy Sines and Sandy Crosco are shown here typing material needed for school use.

SOUTHERN PRODUCES

The fourth annual Maryland Youth Science and Humanities Symposium played host to Jane Garrett and Carol Lawton, 1966 delegates from Southern.

HONORED STUDENTS

The annual Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Award is being presented by Mrs. Randol to this year's winner, Elma Martin.

Journalism students--James Feaster, Cathy Yanzetich, Carol Pelton, Carol Lawton, and Gary Criss--were representatives at the Southern Interscholastic Press Association held in Lexington, Virginia.

FOOD, FASHION, FAMILY—ESSENTIAL TO F.H.A.—

FIRST ROW- Susie Wolfe, Judy Simpson, vice-president; Karen Edgar; Mary Jane Sharpless, president; Wilma Sharpless, parliamentarian; Linda Reckart, historian.

SECOND ROW- Mrs. Randol, advisor; Linda Weimer; Janet Hauser; Faye Green, publicity; Linda Ridder, treasurer; Donna Beeghly, unphotographed, Paula Skipper, secretary.

The basic goal of the Future Homemakers of America (F.H.A.) is to provide extracurricular activities that help to develop a more mature personality in physical, mental, social, and emotional aspects.

All the members of senior F.H.A. and the officers of the junior F.H.A. attend a state meeting in October. In July, a workshop for the benefit of this group is assembled at Hood College in Frederick, Maryland. Persons in this organization are occasionally assigned to serve at special dinners in the cafetorium. Another function of this club is the annual Mother-Daughter Dinner. These projects are carried out on the advice of Mrs. Randol.

The Southern High chapter of the Future Homemakers of America is associated with the National F.H.A. and the state region A.

The fundamentals of farming and its value to democracy is part of the learning process of the Junior High Future Farmers of America. Learning the scientific and economic methods which are used to become a successful farmer, commercially or for private consumption, is included on their agenda of activities.

The exhibition of their various projects enables the public to witness the local growth in the modern farm movement. Such projects include livestock and recreational development, home improvement, service to their community, and intracurricular activities.

The Southern Junior High Future Farmers of America is associated with the National Future Farmers of America and the American Association of Future Farmers.

Sammy Shreve and David Lee McCrobie work with home wiring in the Vo-Ag. workshop.

LEARN FUNDAMENTALS OF FARMING

Dave Lewis and Michael Stahl are given an opportunity to broaden their sense of creativity and originality by completing various projects in Vo-Ag.

The Senior High F.F.A. is run efficiently under the guidance of the officers: Albert Harvey, treasurer; Dave Sines, sentinel; Roy Beckman, secretary; Ron DeWitt, reporter; Larry Schenk, president. UNPHOTOGRAPHED: Doug Liller, vice-president.

The development of competent leadership in a rural community is of great value because it forms a guideline for further progress. The strengthening of this principle is the immediate aim of the Oakland chapter of the Senior Future Farmers of America Club.

Numerous projects undertaken during the year consist of community service, livestock and recreational development, intracurricular activities, and last, but not least, home improvements.

This group, which symbolizes the democratic way of life, is involved in yearly programs such as farm safety, Christmas tree sales, and a regional livestock contest.

The affiliations of this chapter are with the American Association of Future Farmers of America and the National Future Farmers of America.

PROGRESS AT SOUTHERN CONTINUES WITH

In the spring of 1965 the construction of the new wing got underway.

The addition of the new wing to Southern High School increases not only the size of the building itself, but also widens the range of methods used in teaching.

It houses the new audio-lingual laboratory used by the French Department.

Another new facility made available by this structure is the girls' gymnasium. Providing more space for the boys' physical education activities as well as the girls', this gym is extremely important.

New science and laboratory equipment have been placed in the new wing to allow science pupils to better understand the world around them.

Ten classrooms including the language laboratories have been constructed to enable students to have smaller classes and more individual learning. Several small rooms have been added to certain classrooms to provide storage space.

Not connected, but nevertheless part of the new section, the vocational shop furnishes more available room for the construction of various student projects.

Transferring from the older portion of the school to the new wing, the audio-visual room now has a newer, more efficient center for its work in assisting classes requiring the use of electronic equipment. Such equipment includes projectors, phonographs, and tape recorders.

Proposals for a new library at Southern have been drawn up by school executives and contractors. The completion of this structure will provide much needed space for displaying and storing books, and other materials necessary for school study.

Adding beauty to the new wing is a number of reproductions of famous paintings. One of the most popular pictures is "Autumn Ride" by D. Adams. Other painters represented in our "small gallery" are Renoir, Cezanne, Freeman, and Lanse.

Southern High School is very fortunate to have the facilities made available by this new wing.

The building of the science section

While changing classes, Linda Nally and Les McDaniel admire the newness and beauty of the interior of the new wing.

One of the parts of the recently built addition is the vocational shop where students work on various projects involving industry and farming.

THE ADDITION OF TEN NEW CLASSROOMS

of the new wing nears completion.

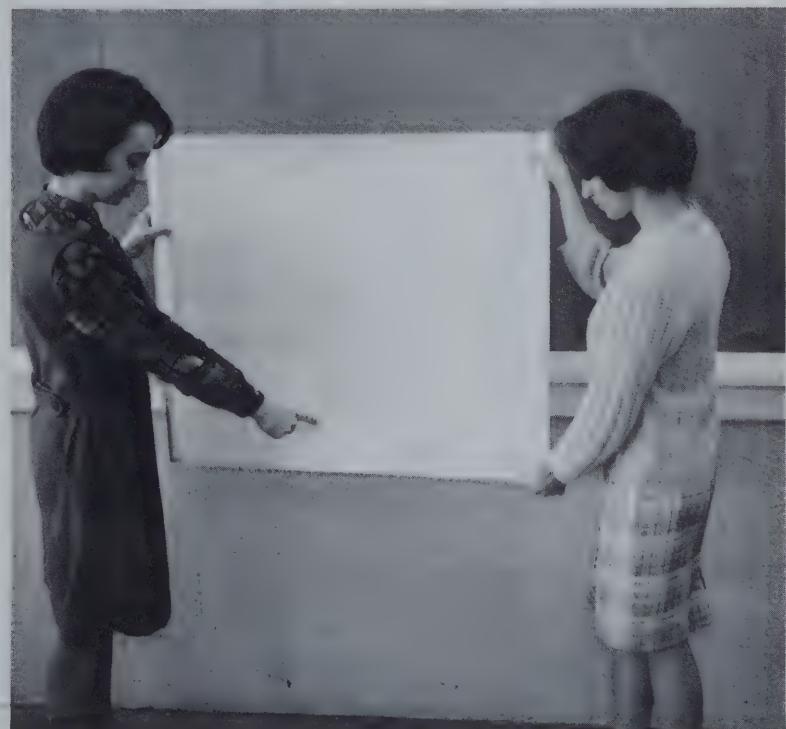

This new branch of the school houses the science classrooms and the chemistry laboratory.

Social studies and English departments find new locations for their classrooms in this division of the new wing.

Cynthia Arnold finds the lockers in the new section of the school building to be roomy and quite convenient.

Carla Savage and Sharon Moreland, two interested students, study plans for the new library at Southern which is hoped to be completed by next fall.

SOUTHERN HAS INTERESTING VISITORS

Mr. Crone discusses audio-visual techniques and equipment with an Okinawan student, studying at West Virginia University, while Mr. Ward and Ann Gibson listen.

Among the people Southern played host to this year were Mr. Tor Ulvo, a superintendent of schools in Eidskog, Norway and a visitor from Okinawa. The latter taught in Okinawa, prior to his arrival in the United States, and visited Southern High School this year. His classes in Okinawa numbered as high as seventy students. He had been taking a course in audio visual at West Virginia University. His purpose in coming to our school was to observe audio visual techniques and supplies.

Participating in the 1965 International Teacher Development Program sponsored under the provisions of the Fulbright Act, Mr. Ulvo was one of twenty-five school superintendents from fourteen different nations to tour the United States. He arrived in the United States in September and began his observation of the various levels of the American educational system. During his stay in Oakland he gave several talks before different organizations pertaining to Norway and its educational system.

The educational departments of Garrett County had a great responsibility in forming a favorable impression for these two distinguished men.

Mr. Johns greets Mr. Tor Ulvo, a superintendent of school in Norway, who visited Southern High while observing the Garrett County educational system.

MRS. KHAN IS A WELCOMED ADDITION

Mr. Johns seems to have surprised Mrs. Khan with a visit to one of her science classes.

Mrs. Amina Afsari Khan was born in Hyderabad, India. She is the eldest of seven children in her family.

Her father was a civil engineer and his family has lived in the outskirts of several towns, where he was transferred occasionally.

She started her education at the age of four years, four months, and four days according to the lunar year. Mrs. Khan received her elementary learning from tutors who taught her Urdu, her mother tongue; arithmetic; the holy Koran; and the English language. After one year of English she was admitted to the sixth grade in high school. She completed her secondary education at an age of a little more than thirteen years.

Life at Muslim University in Aligarh, India, was found, by Mrs. Khan, to be exceptionally difficult. While attending the university, she was suspected of having tuberculosis and was sent home for treatment for a total of fifteen weeks. In four years, however, she finished her college education. She later acquired a teaching assignment during which time she taught English grammar and arithmetic. After her marriage she moved to New Delhi where she lives with her husband and three children.

Prior to her trip to the United States, she taught at the Mater Dei Convent in New Delhi for two years where she intends to continue her teaching after leaving the United States.

Mrs. Khan arrived in the United States on August 7, 1965. She readily took heed of the politeness and courtesy given her upon her arrival. Her feelings toward the American people she has met, in this respect, remain unchanged. After staying in this country for little less than a year she finds United States citizens to be honest and to accept people for what they are.

While a member of Southern's faculty, her major duties were teaching biology and earth science. She now holds the position of Social Studies Co-ordinator for Garrett County.

Comparing the two systems of education in India and the United States, she concluded that instruction is basically the same. However, she stated that United States schools are better equipped with phonographs, movie projectors, tape recorders, typewriters, and other modern teaching facilities.

It can easily be seen that Mrs. Khan's visit to our school and country not only promotes better relations between India and the United States but also extends the benefits of the cultural exchange program to the people with whom she comes in contact.

ATMOSPHERE AROUND SCHOOL

One of the traditions of high school life is the receiving of junior class rings. Bob Rentschler and James Tasker receive them from Mr. Everly after a seemingly endless wait.

Sheila Helbig and Mary Lou Mussard had better select a more suitable size sweatshirt for Tom Stuck if they expect to make a sale.

The junior class is annually confronted with the problem of financing the Junior-Senior Prom. The work necessary to bring about a solution occupies a large part of their list of activities.

Many methods are at the command of the junior class in supplying the needed funds for this formal occasion. Profits from the sale of sweat shirts, baked goods, refreshments at basketball games, and "pom-poms" assist in the fund-raising.

Presenting the junior class play is another way to increase the available cash benefits in the class treasury. Admission fees charged for student matinees and public performances of the play contribute the largest part in making a better and more memorable prom.

JUNIOR CLASS PRESENTS

The junior class play of 1966 was "Finders Creepers", a three act mystery-comedy, written by Donald Payton.

This production concerned one Hercules Nelson (Rob Kittle), and his "bosom pal", Wilbur Macwell (Bob Crone). While visiting the home of Hercules' Uncle Bob (Tom Dettmer, Don Brownning), a mortician, and his wife, Aunt Mary (Cynthia Arnold), they became involved with a living corpse, Mr. Jason Quigley, (Dennis Friend). The only elements which persuaded the boys to remain at this "house of intrigue" were Celeste, Hercules' cousin (Brenda Severe), and Nina Quigley (Patty Shuttlesworth), the great-granddaughter of Mr. Jason Quigley.

Adding color to the plot were: Granny (Barbara Forman), who was forever acting like a school girl; the shrewd Harry Schuster (David Houk), who had his suspicions concerning the death of Madeline Quigley's (Jane Garrett) brother, Mr. Jason Quigley; Claude (Tom Hoffman), the caretaker, who was continually courting the maid, Daphne (Sharon Tasker); and last but not least, Dr. Brown (Phil Barton), a pill-peddling, poison-toting quack.

This hilarious chaotic stage production was directed by Mrs. Grose with the assistance of Mr. Boal.

THE SENIOR CLASS PRESEN

The senior class of Southern High presented a three act comedy entitled "Room and Bored" written by John Henderson, for the school year of 1966.

The plot revolved around the summer cottage of Ray Collins, portrayed by John Sanders, and his wife, Sylvia, played by Donna Crone. They had two daughters, Jean and Claudia, played by Stanya Snyder and Sheila Travis, respectively.

The plot thickened when their oldest daughter, Claudia, brought home a potential poet, Craven Bently, played by Mike Flaherty.

Complications arose as a number of Mr. Collins' peculiar neighbors arrived to disrupt the quiet of the Collins' household. Displaying these eccentricities were Mrs. Audobon (Suzanne Faulkner), an enthusiastic bird watcher; Mrs. Aiken (Vicki Smith), a troublesome hypochondriac; and Mrs. Cavendish (Fannie Hinebaugh), a wealthy woman just back from Hong Kong where she supposedly acquired a Ming vase worth much money.

Joanne Powers and Kenny Gibson capably handled the sister-brother parts of Dorothy and Tony Foster. Tony was once the sweetheart of Claudia, but Craven Bently temporarily changed the situation. The roles of Clyde Aiken, a maternally sheltered youth, and Nell Bowden, Mr. Collins' agent, were played by Bill Mattingly and Nancy Callis.

When things became dull Zeena Deever (Karen Sydenstricker), a cool chick, arrived at the pad of Mr. Collins to liven the rhythm of excitement. Vic Dilgard took over the role of Mr. O'Reilly, a loud-mouthed fellow with a mob of screaming brats, who got into the wrong cottage which happened to be the Collins'. He decided since they were such hospitable people that he and his "clan" would spend a couple of weeks with them.

The preceding resume went into the making of a humorous performance directed by Mrs. McCutcheon and Mr. Crone.

Act I of "Oliver" features a street scene from London presenting the musical number, "Who Will Buy?"

Each year members of the Southern Garrett County Junior-Senior High School Junior Chorus present a Christmas program and a spring operetta. To create an interest in music, which will carry into later years, students participate in the County Concert and travel to College Park where the chorus members take part in the Maryland Junior High Choral Day, which highlights the year's activities.

Fund-raising projects such as entering a float in the homecoming parade and holding bake sales and sock hops provide money for the purchase of chorus blazers.

Jeff Orr portrayed the part of Tiny Tim and Bill Mattingly played Bob Crachet in the Senior Chorus's rendition of THE CHRISTMAS CAROL.

The Southern Garrett County High School Senior Chorus, under the direction of Miss Carol Lambert, has once again had a busy year. The Chorus has presented many radio programs and club performances, as well as sending Vic Dilgard, Anne Gibson, and Mike Hoye to Baltimore as representatives to the All-State Chorus. In addition, tickets were purchased which enabled five students to attend the Community Concert in Cumberland, Maryland, and the Chorus presented their annual Spring Operetta. This year's presentation was the popular Broadway musical and movie, THE SOUND OF MUSIC.

Some of the many purposes of a music class include promoting culture within the students, school, and community, and helping the students learn to conceive the true meanings of music and to appreciate them.

COOKS AND CUSTODIANS

The maintenance of Southern High School depends largely upon the work of the custodial staff. Providing such essential services as heating and cleaning the school, keeping school equipment in fine functioning order, and preserving the beauty of the school grounds creates the correct environment for study.

Preparing the proper nutritional diets for teachers and students here at Southern is the chief responsibility of the kitchen staff. The sanitary condition of the cafeteria is credited to the endeavors of a competent cafeteria staff.

The Southern High Football season was launched with a heartbreaking defeat at the hands of Romney D&B by a score of 13-12. The team worked vigorously the following week to obtain a victory over the Black Knights of Valley. This is exactly what they accomplished when leading at half time by a score of 13-12, they continued their surge with a 25-18 win. The week of September 19th was filled with high spirits and anticipation of a victorious "Homecoming". The Highlanders fulfilled the wishes of the anxious student body by "Tromping the Trojans of St. Francis" by a score of 19-6. The Highlanders played an outstanding game minus the services of their captain, Bill Mattingly, who was injured in the Valley game and was unable to play the remainder of the season.

Filled with confidence and determination, the team traveled to Accident to meet our arch rival, Northern. The Huskies continued their string of victories when they outscored us, 19-6. On October 8th the Highlanders literally rolled in the mud as Parsons defeated us 30-0.

Soon October 15 arrived and accompanying it was the "Tornado Season". That Friday afternoon the Golden Tornadoes of Keyser stormed to victory by crushing the Highlanders, 25-0. The contest with Bruce High School was an excellent defensive display on the part of Southern. The Highlanders held the Bulldogs to a scoreless first half, however during the second half the Bulldogs capitalized on the fumbles of our squad and defeated us, 20-0.

Petersburg, our next adversary, extended our seasonal losses to six by topping us, 12-0. The Highlanders climaxed their 1965 season of football with a triumph over the Hilltoppers of Terra Alta by a score of 19-13.

The new knowledge and skill of the game, which has been acquired by the Highlanders during the past season, enhances the remaining team to look forward to a successful and glorious season in 1966.

Jerry Fike receives a kick off and tries to break away from the opponent for a gain.

John Minnick carries the ball up the middle, while his fellow Highlanders try to open a hole. Short yardage was gained but it contributed to a first down.

HIGHLANDERS IN "ACTION"

Bill Martin slows down a score threatening Hilltopper; however, John Minnick made the crucial tackle that stopped him from gaining the vital yardage he needed.

The mighty Jerry Fike is surrounded by the opponents; however, he gained enough yardage for a first down and put us in good scoring position.

A Football Coach

There is a coach, mentor of the game,
Whose faith in his boys, was less than his shame.
He knew the plays and taught them well,
Dare we fail, he'd spout all hell.
He'd ply the foot to one's posterior,
Death be your reward for being inferior.
With drilling despised, our strength he'd sap,
Help us Lord if we fail, for we take a lap!
Our lungs will burst, and our limbs collapse,
For football's a game played hard to the last.
We're greeted each day with, "When I was a kid."
But we always do better than his best bid.
We run ever harder and (I know) some of us hurt,
For often it pains when embracing the earth.
So before every game we're given the threat,
"Talk it up you slobs, Oh! who are we gonna beat?"
A cry lifted joyously from our parched throats,
"Philmore Clyde High School, those bloody bloats."
And so off we scamper, Coach plying the foot,
To take the field for Southern hearts black as soot.
But not all is suffering, grinning we comply,
Just think my good friend, you might lose an eye.
Legs will break, skulls will crush,
Livers and kidneys, we turn to mush.
Swiftly we dart, outside and middle,
Some of us break for our bones are still brittle.
No matter how grave, or split be our crown,
Coach only utters, "Have Stewart give ya a rubdown."

- Mike Flaherty

Coach Bolding and Co-captain John Minnick converse about the tactics of the game.

SOUTHERN'S WRESTLERS

Larry Schlossnagle applies one of the many techniques of wrestling in order to gain a decision over his opponent.

With the combined effort of coach Fugera and a determined group of young men, Southern can again claim, with pride, a promising squad of wrestlers.

Considering the prevalence of inexperience, Southern's team fared so well that a feeling of optimism is projected from the athletic department concerning the future of wrestling at Southern.

The team consisted of eleven members who, throughout each match, contended with the desire of winning a decision over an opponent. By no means was this the sole objective. On and off the mat, they attempted to acquire the realization of the importance of good sportsmanship and fair play.

This year several members of Southern's wrestling team, Mike Foley, Don Browning, Dave Sines, and Roger Stultz were finalists in the annual Potomac Valley Conference Wrestling Tournaments. The tournaments hold competition for district schools and in various weight classes. Congratulations are in order for this group of fine young athletes who have added to Southern's honor and dignity.

Holding a starting position on the Varsity Basketball team is the climax of an athletic career starting as early as the seventh grade. Many hours of sacrifice and training are required to reach this peak in high school athletics.

The members of the Southern Varsity Basketball squad are examples of this achievement and stature. They not only work to create a winning team, but they also try to gain the appreciation of good sportsmanship. Each player is a representative of the school and carries with him a little part of each student at Southern while playing on the court.

Reviewing certain prominent specifics, one cannot overlook the fact that the Highlanders shattered a scoring record in the game against Bruceton Mills. They tallied 111 points to the Bulldogs' 74. On two occasions Southern dragged their foes into an overtime period. Both times the Highlanders emerged victoriously.

With the satisfaction of knowing that they have done their best, the remaining squad looks forward to greater things in the 1966-67 season.

Dianne Morrow and Carol Pelton, president and treasurer of the G.A.A., present a one-hundred dollar check on payment of the new rebounding machine to Athletic Director Richard Travis and the basketball coach, William Watson.

The purchase of the new McCall Rebounder by the Southern Athletic Department and the Girls' Athletic Association has already proven to be a wise investment.

Tipping the basketball in the "hoop" and receiving rebounds from the "boards" are the main essentials taught while using this apparatus.

Probably the best example suited to show the effectiveness of the rebounding machine is to look at the results of the Southern versus Boonesboro Tournament Game. The five starting players on the Boonesboro squad all had heights exceeding six feet. Southern's playing team were all under six-feet tall. In spite of our disadvantage, Southern controlled the "boards" and the game.

However, the three hundred dollar buy cannot take full credit, though it helped in this victory. A tremendous amount of mention must be given to the hard-working, determined Southern basketball team.

Andy Cosby, one of the varsity basketball players, uses the recently purchased rebounding machine to his advantage.

Basketball managers for the year of 1966 were Jim Feaster, Harrison Stewart, and Arnold Miller.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

Karen Sears; Dianne Morrow, captain; Anne Gibson; Jenny Gosnell; Joanne Powers.

"Behind every good man there is a woman." The sports world is no exception for this logic. The young ladies, commonly referred to as "cheerleaders", are the latter subjects in the above quote. The call for all students at Southern to openly express their school spirit is given by the cheerleaders. At each game, whether football, basketball, or baseball, the varsity cheerleaders are devotedly and actively in attendance for the purpose of arousing support for the team.

Southern's cheerleaders were always filled with high spirits and a sense of good sportsmanship throughout all of the Highlanders' athletic endeavors. During this football game the girls cheered our boys on to victory.

The statement that "statistics never tell the complete story" can be readily applied to Southern's Junior Varsity Basketball season. Through the endeavors and fine leadership of Coach Tom Kuhn, this year's "J. V.'s" progressed in their development of athletic talents and attitudes.

Gaining a keen sense of good sportsmanship and the satisfaction of teamwork, this group of fine young men had a successful year.

Their win and loss record was four and eight, respectively. With more experience "under their belts" the remaining team hopes for even more success in the future. The confidence and determination of this squad are more than a match for this challenge.

JUNIOR HIGH FOOTBALL RECORD IS 4-1

Hustler Pat Flanagan carries the ball for a first down in the Northern game. The play consisted of the "40-Power" around the right end.

The members of the Junior High football team are the potential and future athletes of Southern High. In the years to come they will carry the banners of Southern to the competitive field. Under the guidance of Coach Watson the team works to develop their playing skill and good sportsmanship. Their ultimate goal is to further their progress in competitive sports and to capture the quality of fair play.

BASKETBALL SQUAD HAS 4-8 SEASON

Flanagan, Wayne Dunbar, Joe Peck, Rich Browning, Dave Bosley, Ed Poling, Coach Wayne Johnson.

Obtaining success on the Junior High basketball team is the completion of one of two steps required to reach the "Varsity Five". Coach Johnson's responsibilities include building confidence and talent in these young athletes. They must be encouraged to do their best at all times. The future of basketball at Southern depends upon the strength of its foundation. The gains of this team help to make the base sound.

For all projects which are to succeed there is a starting point. The creation of the seventh and eighth grade football and basketball teams provides the starting point for the building of a talented varsity squad. All these young sportsmen look ahead to the day when they will step from the grounds of inexperience and mistakes to the field of achievement and success. Mr. Posey and Mr. Carrier, the football coaches, and Mr. Harr, the basketball coach, work hard to assure just this.
